Formerly named, Ulubari College, this institution started functioning in the premises of the neighbouring Ulubari High School in the evening on 9th September 1984 with 75 students in its roll for the higher secondary programme.

The college has been set up with the painstaking efforts of a few academically conscious personalities who felt the need of an institution of higher education in the Ulubari locality. Accordingly the building was constructed, providing the required infrastructure for all administrative work, teaching-learning and co-curricular activities. In recognition to the contribution of the trust, the Ulubari College Authority renamed the college after Sreenivas Basudev Deorah as S.B. Deorah College.

The college is affiliated to the Gauhati University and came under the deficit grant-in-aid schemes of the Government of Assam on 11th January 1996. It has attained permanent UGC registration under Section 2(f) & 12 (B) of UGC Act, 1956, in the year 2005.
